Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

AB 631 classifies county jailers as protective occupation participants only for the purpose of receiving duty disability and death benefits under the WRS. County jailers would maintain their status as general participants under the WRS for all other benefits.

It is estimated there are 1,000 county jailers who may be classified as protectives under the provisions of the bill. Based upon previous benefit program experience, our Department estimates 15 duty disability applications will be processed in the first year. On-going administrative costs of handling and managing applications for benefits and conducting annual review processes under s. 40.65 duty disability is approximately $5,700 for salary and fringe benefits for the first year. This includes 14 hours for initial processing and benefit establishment and 5 hours for annual review processes.

In addition, one-time estimated costs for system changes to 125 separate applications that use employment categories and for contract developer analysis, design and testing, user testing and central processing unit time are estimated at $637,800.

The Member Services Bureau will have additional one-time costs of $1,700 to revise forms, brochures and procedures, respond to written inquiries and counsel participants. On-going costs associated with the additional workload is estimated at $1,900.

This fiscal estimate addresses only the administrative costs of AB 631. The Joint Survey Committee on Retirement Systems will estimate the fiscal impact on the trust fund.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

Administrative costs will continue to increase as additional benefits are filed for duty disability and death benefits and on-going benefit management accumulates.
