Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill recodifies statutes on operating while intoxicated and safety laws pertaining to motor vehicle operation. Most of the bill is concerned with updating terms and descriptions related to the definition of "intoxicant" and "under the influence of an intoxicant". These updates would have no fiscal effect on the Department of Corrections.

Also included in the bill are two changes which do have the potential of having a fiscal effect on the Department of Corrections or local governments. The bill changes the locations where reckless and drunken driving statutes are applicable to include "all premises" and "frozen waters". This change has the potential to increase the number of people that would be sentenced to county jails or to prisons. However, it is not possible to determine the increase in the number of people that would be convicted of reckless and drunken driving as a result of this change. Therefore, it is not possible to determine the fiscal impact to the Department of Corrections or local governments.

The bill also increases the maximum term of imprisonment for a person with 5 or more suspensions, revocations, and convictions related to intoxicated operation from 5 years to 7 years 6 months. Since it is not possible to determine the number of offenders that would be convicted of their 5th offense that would receive additional years of imprisonment, the fiscal impact to the Department of Corrections can not be determined.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications
