DCF 1/6/2014

LRB Number	13-1065/2	Introduction Number	AB-0387	Estimate Type	Original
Description Age at which a person who is alleged to have violated a criminal law, a civil law, or a municipal ordinance and who is not alleged to have committed certain violent offenses or has not previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent is subject to juvenile court jurisdiction

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill raises from 17 to 18 the age at which a person who is alleged to have violated a criminal law is subject to the procedures specified in the Criminal Procedure Code and, on conviction, to sentencing under the Criminal Code, if the person is not alleged to have committed certain violent offenses and has not previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent. This bill also raises from 17 to 18 the age at which a person who is alleged to have violated a civil law or municipal ordinance is subject to the jurisdiction and procedures of the circuit court or, if applicable, the municipal court, if the person has not previously been convicted of a crime or adjudicated delinquent.

While this bill alters the definition of child and adult under chapters 48 and 938, the modified definition is not expected to change current child welfare programs and procedures. For the programs administered and supervised by the Department of Children and Families, this bill has no fiscal effect.
