Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

AB449 modifies the direct seller exclusion to codify Federal direct seller employer standards.

Currently, Wisconsin has identified 66 direct seller employers. If a claimant reports working for an employer previously identified as a direct seller, the wages are assumed to be excluded.

Since this proposal broadens the definition of who could be considered a direct seller, it is possible that more employers may meet this definition, thus more employers would be excluded from UI taxes and benefits could not be paid based on the wages earned.

However, the amount of direct seller employers that may be affected is projected to be small. According to their website, the Direct Seller Association has 168 employers, of which 9 are subject employers and 3 have a taxable payroll in Wisconsin. Though more employers may be excluded, very few are currently subject in Wisconsin in the first place. Any change to the direct seller exclusion is expected to have minimal impact to the UI Trust Fund.

Since there is not a UI Trust Fund impact, there would be no state or local employer impact.
