increased maximum terms of imprisonment for domestic abuse repeaters and providing a criminal penalty

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Current law allows a court to increase by two years the maximum term of imprisonment for a crime if the crime constituted an act of domestic abuse and the defendant was, within the preceding ten years, convicted on at least two separate occasions of a felony or misdemeanor that was subject to a domestic abuse surcharge. A domestic abuse surcharge is a surcharge that a Wisconsin court must impose if the defendant committed one of a list of crimes against his or her current or former spouse, against an adult with whom the defendant currently or formerly resides, or against an adult with whom the defendant has created a child. Under this bill, crimes that would subject a defendant to the increased maximum term of imprisonment include felonies or misdemeanors committed in another state but that, had they been committed in Wisconsin, would have been subject to the domestic abuse surcharge.

Prosecutors indicated that this legislation would have little fiscal impact on their offices. Therefore, the fiscal estimate is indeterminate.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

The long-range fiscal implications of this legislation on district attorney's offices are indeterminate.
