Analysis Prepared by the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection-

Statutory authority: ss. 93.07(1) and 93.23(1)(a)2, Stats.

Statute interpreted: s. 93.23, Stats.

This rule updates the department's current rules related to county and district fairs. Among other things, this rule establishes new and revised entry classes for county and district fair exhibits, and specifies uniform premium awards for various entry classes.

Background

Under s. 93.23, Stats., the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection ("department") is authorized to distribute state aid moneys to county and district fairs. Currently, about 76 county and district fairs receive state aids from the department. State aid moneys, appropriated under s. 20.115(4)(b) and (g), Stats., are used to reimburse county and district fairs for premiums awarded to fair exhibitors. In each year of the 1993-95 biennium, the Legislature earmarked $650,000 of the state's gaming revenues for that purpose.

Under 1993 Wis. Act 497, signed by the governor on July 8, 1994, the Legislature appropriated additional general purpose revenues to guarantee $650,000 in fair aids for fiscal year 1994-95. If actual gaming revenues fall short of expectations, so that less than $368,000 in gaming revenues actually become available in any year, the difference up to $368,500 is made up by general purpose revenues (general tax dollars). Thus, in each year of the biennium, the appropriation for fair aids is guaranteed to be at least $368,500, and the appropriation may be as much as $650,000 depending on gaming revenues.

Under s. 93.23, Stats., a county or district fair may be reimbursed for 95% of the first $8,000 in net premiums awarded by the fair, and 75% of all net premiums over $8,000. In order to qualify for state aids under s. 93.23, Stats., a county or district fair must award premiums according to a uniform premium list adopted by the department by rule.

The department's current rules under ch. ATCP 160, Wis. Adm. Code specify detailed entry classes for county and district fair exhibits. For each entry class, current rules specify uniform premiums for first-place to fourth-place premium awards. The department will pay state aids only on that portion of a premium award that is within the maximum amount specified by department rule.

The department updates its county and district fair rules every 5 years, based on recommendations from the Wisconsin association of fairs. The Wisconsin association of fairs is a state association of organizations that sponsor county and district fairs in this state. This rule is adopted as part of the department's regular 5-year update cycle, and incorporates the most recent recommendations of the Wisconsin association of fairs.

Rule Contents

This rule specifies a number of new and revised entry classes for county and district fair exhibits. It also specifies a number of new and revised premium awards in various entry classes. This rule makes the following changes to current rules, among others:

- It allows exhibitors to enter "grade" cattle in the dairy cattle department of a fair's open division.
- It allows an exhibitor to show, in purebred entry classes for cattle, non-purebred dairy cattle whose genealogy is recorded in a national breed association's qualified herd book.
- It prohibits exhibitors from entering the same exhibit in competition for state-aided premiums in both the junior division and the open division.
- It revises horse entry classes in both the junior division and open division to keep pace with current 4-H horse programs and draft horse exhibition practices.
- It removes current weight restrictions on market classes of swine and sheep, and allows county and district fairs to specify appropriate weight restrictions.
- It creates a separate department of cat exhibits.
- It modifies the current department of photography exhibits to include video, television and computer technology exhibits.

This rule also makes a substantial number of technical and drafting changes to current rules.
