CHAPTER 149.

AN ACT relating to corporations organized under the laws of this state, and amendatory of section 8 of chapter 146 of the laws of 1872, of an act entitled, "An act to authorize the organization of corporations for other than manufacturing, mercantile, insurance, banking, transportation or trading purposes," approved March 25, 1872.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Amended.

Institutions may adopt and educate children.

Power of officers to bind out children.

Chapter 113, R. S., to apply.

SECTION 1. Section 8 of chapter 146, laws of 1872, is hereby amended by adding to said section 8 the following: The officers and managers of any institution organized pursuant to this act shall receive and take into such institution all children which are committed thereto, and shall cause all children in such institution to be instructed in such branches of useful knowledge as may be suited to their years and capacities, and shall especially cause the girls to be taught domestic avocations, sewing, mending, knitting and housekeeping in all its departments, with the common branches of education. The officers of any such institution shall have power in their discretion to bind out any child committed to it as apprentices or servants during their minority, to such persons and to learn such proper trades and employments as in their judgment will be most for the future advantage of such child. Such officers may also in their discretion give away to any suitable person for adoption any such child during its minority. All and singular the provisions contained in chapter 113 of the revised statutes, entitled "Of masters and apprentices," shall apply to the apprentices and servants and to the person or persons to whom they shall be bound by virtue of this act, and every minor so bound and the officers binding him, and the person or persons to whom such child is bound, shall be subject to all the provisions of said chapter.
