CHAPTER 107.

AN ACT to facilitate elections in certain cases.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The supervisors of every town within this state, in which at the general election in the year 1880, one thousand or more votes were cast, shall, within three months after the passage and publication of this act, divide said town into two or more election districts, as nearly equal in population as the convenience of the electors will permit, and thereafter at every general election or special election for national, state or county officers, polls shall be opened and elections held in each of said districts as provided by law in towns constituting but one election district. The division herein provided for shall be made by said supervisors by their order in writing, specifying the boundaries of such districts and the places where at the first election thereafter the polls shall be held therein, due consideration being had for the greatest convenience of the electors, and the persons who shall act as inspectors at said polls if present: such order shall be filed in the office of the town clerk, within ten days after it is made, and copies thereof shall be posted up in at least five public places in said town, and a copy thereof filed with the county clerk. Such order shall continue and be in force for succeeding elections, provided, however, that the supervisors may, by their order in writing, for good cause, change and modify the boundaries of such districts from time to time, but every such order shall be filed and posted as herein required: and provided further, that the electors present at any general election may, by their viva voce vote, fix the place for holding the next and all subsequent elections, and may designate who shall act as inspectors.

Division of towns into election districts.

Fixing place for holding elections.

SECTION 2. In case any town constituting a single election precinct shall, at any future election, cast one

Number of votes to entitle to division.
