CHAPTER 232.

AN ACT relating to the allowance of the accounts of executors and administrators.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Payment of claims not filed or allowed against estate. SECTION 1. There is hereby created and added to the statutes of 1898 a new section to be known and to read as follows: Section 3030a. In all cases where an executor or administrator shall or may have paid in good faith any debts or claims against the estate which he represents, without the same having been duly filed, approved or allowed as required by law and his final account has not yet been settled, such payments may be allowed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter, upon proof satisfactory to said court, that said debts or claims were just and existing demands against said estate at the time of payment and were paid within the time limited by law for the presentation of claims. Provided, that the notice of the application for the allowance of such final account shall state that application will be made for such allowance and such notice shall be served personally or by mail upon all heirs or legatees who are of age and upon the guardian ad litem of all minors or incompetent persons interested in such estate at least twenty days before the day of hearing. Provided, that no payments shall be allowed except on a pro rata basis with other claims when the estate is insolvent.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved May 22, 1905.
