Pers 20.03 Trainee classification. (1) USE OF TRAINEE CLASSIFICATION. The director may authorize the use of the trainee classification when:

(a) Qualified applicants are not available for the objective classification, or

(b) Filling the position as a trainee will be more appropriate than appointment in the objective classification, or

(c) Special conditions exist as part of the provisions for the use of gifts, grants, bequests, or other devices from individuals, partnerships, associations, or corporations for providing employes with the training and/or experience to meet the qualifications of the objective classification.

(2) TRAINEE SALARY RANGE. The salary range for a position classified as trainee shall be subject to the approval of the director.

(a) The minimum of such range shall be comparable to the minimum salaries of classifications having similar qualifications.

(b) The maximum of such range shall not exceed the minimum salary of the objective classification for which the employe is being trained.

(3) SALARY OF A TRAINEE. The starting salary rate and salary increases during the training program shall be subject to the approval of the director. Appointment may be made at that point in the salary range commensurate with previous training and/or experience.

(4) SALARY OF A PERMANENT EMPLOYEE APPOINTED AS TRAINEE. This subsection applies to the salary of an employee appointed to fill a vacancy in a trainee position either in the same department or in a different department. The term step as used in this subsection refers to the salary step amount in the salary schedule range from which the employee moves when appointed to the trainee position.

(a) When the employee's present salary rate is above the maximum of the trainee salary range, his rate in the trainee salary range shall be at the maximum of such range.

(a) However, the appointment of a permanent employee to a trainee position within the department shall, as provided in subsection 16.22 (1), Wis. Stats., be deemed a change in job status, and shall not affect the permanent status and rights previously acquired within such department. At any time during the probationary period the appointing officer may remove and restore the employee to his former position and salary without the right of appeal. Any other removal, suspension without pay, or discharge during the probationary period shall be subject to subsection 16.24 (1), Wis. Stats. Upon successful completion of the training program the trainee shall assume the class title of the objective classification. He shall serve a probationary period in the objective classification.

Determination of this rate shall be made at time of appointment in the objective class and reported to the director. In cases where the objective class for which the employe is being trained is in the same or lower salary range than the class of the employe's position in which he had permanent status immediately prior to entry in the training program, no probationary increase shall be given upon completion of the probationary period. However, such employe shall be paid not less than the permanent status in class minimum upon completion of such probationary period.
