February 20, 2018 - Offered by Senators MILLER, HANSEN, RINGHAND, RISSER, CARPENTER, VINEHOUT, JOHNSON, SCHACHTNER, LARSON, L. TAYLOR, WIRCH, BEWLEY and ERPENBACH.

2           281.36 (9) (a) (intro.); and to create 15.347 (22) and 281.36 (4n) of the statutes;
3           relating to: the discharge of dredged or fill material into artificial wetlands,
4           the study of wetlands, and requiring the exercise of rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This substitute amendment exempts from wetland permitting requirements a discharge of dredged or fill material into an artificial wetland and creates a council to study wetland issues.

Current law requires the Department of Natural Resources to issue wetland general permits for discharges of dredged or fill material into certain wetlands. Current law allows DNR to establish different requirements, conditions, and exceptions in general permits to ensure that the discharges will cause only minimal adverse environmental effects. A person who wishes to proceed with a discharge that is covered by a general permit must notify DNR. If DNR does not request additional information or notify the person that an individual permit will be required within 30 days after receipt of the notification, the person may proceed with the discharge. Current law also authorizes DNR to require a person to apply for and obtain a wetland individual permit if DNR determines that conditions specific to the site require additional restrictions on the discharge in order to provide reasonable assurance that no significant adverse impacts to wetland functional values will occur.

Under current rules promulgated by DNR, discharges to certain artificial wetlands are exempt from the wetland permitting requirements unless DNR determines that significant functional values are present. This substitute amendment exempts from wetland permitting requirements a discharge to any artificial wetland. The substitute amendment defines an artificial wetland as a landscape feature where hydrophitic vegetation may be present as a result of human modification to the landscape or hydrology and for which there is no prior wetland or stream history, but excludes from the definition a wetland that serves as a fish spawning area or a passage to a fish spawning area or that was created as a result of a wetland mitigation requirement.

With respect to the exemption created for artificial wetlands, the substitute amendment establishes a process under which DNR must be notified of any project that may affect a wetland or landscape feature that is eligible for such an exemption and then must issue a determination of whether the eligibility requirements are met or not.

The substitute amendment creates within DNR a wetland study council, consisting of nine members, appointed for staggered six-year terms by the governor and the secretary of natural resources, representing various interests and expertises, to research and provide recommendations on various issues relating to wetlands.

4 standards.

5 SECTION 3. 281.36 (3m) (a) of the statutes, as affected by 2017 Wisconsin Act
