Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Currently, the state minimum wage law requires that employers pay a living wage to their employees. Under that law, the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) has provided, by rule, minimum hourly wages for various classes of employment as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL 622

Employees generally
Opportunity employees (Employees under 20 years of age in their first 90 days of employment with a particular employer)	$4.25
Nonopportunity employees	$5.15
Tipped Employees
Opportunity employees	$2.13
Nonopportunity employees	$2.33
Agricultural Employees
Adults	$4.05
Minors	$3.70

Also under current law, DWD has provided, by rule, separate minimum wage rates for counselors at recreational or educational camps, golf caddies, students employed at independent colleges and universities for less than 20 hours per week, student learners employed in bona fide school training programs, and individuals who are unable to earn the standard minimum wage because of a disability; and DWD has exempted, by rule, from the minimum wage law employees who perform less than 15 hours per week of casual employment, such as baby-sitting or lawn mowing, in and around an employer's home, employees who provide companionship services to elderly or infirm individuals, and elementary and secondary school students performing work-like activities in their schools. Under this bill, DWD will continue to provide those separate minimum wage rates and exemptions. For other employees, however, including agricultural employees and tipped employees, the bill provides the method by which DWD must calculate the minimum wage.

Specifically, for employees generally, that is, employees who are not agricultural employees, tipped employees, opportunity employees (defined in the bill as employees under 20 years of age who have been employed for a cumulative total of 30 calendar days or less within the preceding three-year period) or employees for whom DWD provides a separate minimum wage, the bill directs DWD to calculate the minimum hourly wage by dividing the federal poverty line for a family of three persons (federal poverty line) (currently $15,020 per year), by 2,080 (52 weeks in a year times 40 hours per week), and rounding the quotient to the nearest multiple of five cents. Accordingly, at the current federal poverty line, this bill raises the minimum wage for employees generally to $7.20 per hour.

For other employees, the bill directs DWD to calculate the minimum hourly wage by multiplying the result obtained under the previous paragraph as follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL 622

1. For opportunity employees, by 92.9 percent and rounding the product to the nearest multiple of five cents, resulting in a minimum wage of $6.70 per hour when calculated based on the current federal poverty line.

2. For tipped employees who are not opportunity employees, by 54.8 percent and rounding the product to the nearest multiple of five cents, resulting in a minimum wage of $3.95 per hour when calculated based on the current poverty line.

3. For tipped employees who are opportunity employees, by 51.7 percent and rounding the product to the nearest multiple of five cents, resulting in a minimum wage of $3.70 per hour when calculated based on the current poverty line.

4. For agricultural employees 18 years of age or over, by 95.3 percent and rounding the product to the nearest multiple of five cents, resulting in a minimum wage of $6.85 per hour when calculated based on the current poverty line.

5. For agricultural employees under 18 years of age, by 87 percent and rounding the product to the nearest multiple of five cents, resulting in a minimum wage of $6.25 per hour when calculated based on the current poverty line.

The bill further requires DWD to revise annually the minimum wages specified above within 30 days after the federal Department of Health and Human Services publishes its annual revision of the poverty line.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
