Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill makes various changes to the statutes governing public libraries, including the following:

1. Under current law, a county board may levy a tax for the purpose of providing public library services to county residents. A city, town, village, or school district located in the county is exempt from the county tax if the city, town, village, or school district levies a tax for public library services at a rate that is equal to or greater than the county library tax rate. This bill excludes the amount levied by the county for public library capital expenditures when determining whether a city, town, village, or school district is exempt.

2. The bill provides that regular wages or salary or other recurring payments of a public library may be paid by the appropriate municipal, county, or school district official by the due date without prior library board approval. The payments must be audited and approved by the library board at its next regular meeting.

3. Current law allows a public library board to invest a gift or endowment as provided under the Uniform Management of Institutional Funds Act. This bill also allows a public board to invest such funds in the manner provided for surplus funds of a county, city, village, town, school district, or technical college district.

4. The bill allows a municipal, county, or joint public library to provide remote access to a library's electronic database only to its residents.

5. The bill excludes any amount spent for capital projects from the financial support required for county or municipal library participation in a public library system.

6. The bill expands the authority of a county board to appoint members to municipal public library boards. Currently, only one or two additional members may be appointed; this bill allows up to five additional members to be appointed, depending upon the proportion of county funding to municipal funding of the public library.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
