2007 SENATE BILL 170

April 27, 2007 – Introduced by Senators Hansen, Lehman, Taylor and Kreitlow, cosponsored by Representatives Sinicki, Grigsby, Schneider, Travis and Berceau. Referred to Committee on Campaign Finance Reform, Rural Issues and Information Technology.

AN ACT to create 753.30 (5) of the statutes; relating to: a notice to parties in civil actions of the Supreme Court rule regarding judicial recusal and regarding access to a statement of economic interests.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current Supreme Court rules, a judge is required to recuse himself or herself under certain situations when facts he or she knows or should know establish a question regarding his or her impartiality or are such as would cause a well-informed person knowledgeable about judicial ethics standards and the justice system to question the judge's ability to be impartial.

Current law requires all state public officials to file a statement of economic interests with the Ethics Board.

This bill requires the clerk of circuit court to provide every party in a civil action or proceeding a summary of the Supreme Court rules regarding recusal and impartiality and the procedure to follow to review and copy a statement of economic interests. The director of state courts is required to prepare a document that includes the summary and procedure and provide the clerks with sufficient copies without cost. The bill prohibits the clerk of circuit court from charging a party for the cost of mailing the document to the party.
