3 (3) and 40.82 (4) of the statutes; relating to: calculation of creditable military 4 service and treatment of differential wage payments for benefits purposes for 5 participants in the Wisconsin Retirement System.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, some participating employees in the Wisconsin Retirement System (WRS) receive differential wage payments from their employers while they are on active duty in the uniformed services for any period of more than 30 days. Currently, federal law requires that differential wage payments be treated as covered earnings for fringe benefit purposes. This bill requires that under the WRS differential wage payments must be treated as earnings for WRS purposes and that individuals who receive differential wage payments must be treated as regular employees for purposes of the WRS.

In addition, the bill provides that, for purposes of death or disability benefits, a WRS participant who dies or becomes disabled while performing military service is treated as though the person was a participating employee in the WRS. This new provision of law applies retroactively to a participant who died or became disabled on or after January 1, 2007.

Because this bill relates to public employee retirement or pensions, it may be referred to the Joint Survey Committee on Retirement Systems for a report to be printed as an appendix to the bill.
