2023 SENATE BILL 667

November 9, 2023 - Introduced by Senators KNODL and FELZKOWSKI, cosponsored by Representatives O'CONNOR, DITTRICH, MURPHY, MURSAU, NEDWESKI and RETTINGER. Referred to Committee on Shared Revenue, Elections and Consumer Protection.

- 1 AN ACT to create chapter 699 of the statutes; relating to: domestic asset
2 protection trusts.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill creates a new type of trust, called a legacy trust. A legacy trust is an irrevocable trust that contains a spendthrift provision and that appoints at least one qualified trustee. Under the bill, a person, called a transferor, may create a legacy trust into which he or she may place assets that will be managed by the trustee. The transferor may also be a co-trustee or a beneficiary of the legacy trust. The terms of the trust may grant a transferor the power to remove and replace a trustee or advisor and to direct trust investments.

A person who places assets in a trust is a settlor. Under current law, generally, the assets of a settlor are subject to creditor claims. If the assets are placed in a revocable trust, the assets are subject to the claims of the settlor's creditors. If the assets are placed in an irrevocable trust and the trust is not for an individual with a disability, the court may, if the trust instrument requires or authorizes the trustee to make payments of income or principal to or for the settlor, order the trustee to satisfy part or all of a judgment out of payments from the trust.

Current law also provides a spendthrift provision, which is a term of a trust that restricts voluntary or involuntary transfers of a beneficiary's interest in the trust. Under current law, a spendthrift provision is valid only if the beneficiary is someone other than the settlor, or if the beneficiary is disabled. Under current law there are exceptions that provide that a spendthrift provision does not protect assets from claims for child support under any circumstance or claims for public support unless the beneficiary is disabled.

8 699.015 Applicability. Unless the terms of a legacy trust provide otherwise,
9 this chapter governs the construction, operation, and enforcement in this state of a 10 legacy trust, whether created in this state or any other state, if any of the following

22 transferor or a person who is treated as a settlor under s. 701.0505 (2) is also a 23 beneficiary of the legacy trust.

24 (2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a spendthrift provision in a
25 legacy trust restrains both voluntary and involuntary transfers of a transferor's

SENATE BILL 667SECTION 1

1 interest in the legacy trust. A spendthrift provision in a legacy trust is enforceable
2 under any applicable nonbankruptcy law within the meaning of 11 USC 541 (c) (2)

14 trust. None of the following is considered to be, including in combination, a power 15 to revoke a legacy trust or to voluntarily or involuntarily transfer an interest in the 16 legacy trust:

17 (1) A transferor's power to veto a distribution of income or principal from the 18 legacy trust.

19 (2) A special power of appointment, as defined in s. 702.02 (7), exercisable by 20 a transferor by will or another written document that is effective during the lifetime
21 of the transferor or upon the death of the transferor.

22 (3) The right of a transferor to receive income from the legacy trust in 23 accordance with the terms of the legacy trust.

24 (4) That a transferor is a beneficiary of the legacy trust regardless of whether 25 the trust qualifies as a charitable remainder annuity trust under 26 USC 664 (d) (1)

SENATE BILL 667

1 or as a charitable remainder unitrust under 26 USC 664 (d) (2), even if the transferor
2 has the right to release the transferor's retained interest, in whole or in part, in the 3 charitable remainder annuity trust or charitable remainder unitrust at any time in 4 favor of one or more of the remainder beneficiaries of the legacy trust.

5 (5) A transferor's annual receipt of a percentage of the value of the legacy trust
6 assets, as determined in accordance with the terms of the trust, as long as the amount
7 the transferor receives in a year is not more than the amount defined as the income
8 of the legacy trust under 26 USC 643 (b) or, for any qualified retirement plan or 9 eligible deferred compensation plan that is an asset of the legacy trust, the minimum
10 required distribution, as defined in 26 USC 4974 (b).

11 (6) A transferor's potential or actual receipt or use of principal or income of the 12 legacy trust if the potential or actual receipt or use is the result of any of the following:

13 (a) A qualified trustee's discretion. For purposes of this paragraph, a qualified 14 trustee has discretion with respect to the distribution and use of the principal and 15 income of a legacy trust unless the terms of the legacy trust expressly provide 16 otherwise.

17 (b) A qualified trustee applying a standard that governs the distribution or use 18 of principal or income of the legacy trust.

19 (c) A qualified trustee acting at the direction of an advisor if the advisor's 20 direction is discretionary or pursuant to a standard that governs the distribution or 21 use of principal or income under the terms of the legacy trust. For purposes of this 22 paragraph, an advisor's direction is discretionary unless the terms of the legacy trust 23 expressly provide otherwise.

24 (7) A transferor's potential or actual right to use real or tangible personal 25 property owned by the legacy trust.

SENATE BILL 667SECTION 1

1 (8) A transferor's right to possess and enjoy a qualified interest, as defined in 11 (b) The expenses of administering the transferor's estate.

12 (c) Any estate, gift, generation-skipping transfer, or inheritance tax on behalf 13 of the transferor or the transferor's estate.

14 (11) A provision in the legacy trust that transfers all or part of the trust assets
15 to the transferor's estate or revocable trust.

16 (12) A transferor is a beneficiary of the legacy trust and is authorized to receive 17 a payment of income or principal from a qualified annuity interest, as defined in 26
18 CFR 25.2702-3 (b), or a qualified unitrust interest, as defined in 26 CFR 25.2702-3 19 (c).

20 699.04 Transferor's powers. (1) A transferor of a legacy trust has only the 21 powers and rights that are granted to the transferor by the trust instrument. An 22 agreement or understanding, express or implied, between the transferor and a 23 trustee that attempts to grant or permit the retention of greater rights or authority 24 than is stated in the trust instrument is void.

SENATE BILL 667

1 (2) Notwithstanding s. 699.03, the terms of a legacy trust may grant a 2 transferor, whether or not the transferor is a trustee, the power to do any of the 3 following:

4 (a) Remove and replace a trustee.

5 (b) Remove and replace an advisor.

6 (c) Direct trust investments.

7 (d) Execute any other managerial duties.

8 699.05 Limitations on actions, remedies, and claims. (1) In this section:

9 (a) “Cash” means the coins or currency of the United States or any other nation.

10 (b) “Cash equivalent” means a monetary instrument or device that is commonly 11 or routinely accepted instead of cash, including a certified or uncertified check; 12 money order; bank draft; electronic transfer of funds; negotiable instrument or an 13 instrument endorsed in blank or in bearer form; securities issued or guaranteed by 14 the United States, a state, or a state or federal agency; funds on deposit in a savings
15 or checking account or any similar account; funds on deposit in a money market 16 account or similar account; or demand deposit account, time deposit account, or 17 savings deposit account at any bank, savings and loan association, brokerage house, 18 or similar institution.

19 (c) “Fungible asset” means an asset other than money that is interchangeable
20 for commercial purposes and the properties of which are essentially identical.

21 (d) “Money” means cash or a cash equivalent.

22 (2) Subject to sub. (3) and s. 699.10 (4), a creditor may not bring an action of 23 any kind, including an action to enforce a judgment, an action at law or in equity, or 24 an action for an attachment or other final or provisional remedy, against a person 25 who made or received a qualified disposition, against a trustee of a legacy trust, or

SENATE BILL 667SECTION 1

1 against or involving any property that is the subject of a qualified disposition or is 2 otherwise held by a legacy trust, except that, subject to s. 699.06, a creditor may bring 3 an action against a qualified disposition of an asset if the transferor made the 4 qualified disposition with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud the creditor.

5 (3) A creditor may bring an action against a qualified disposition under sub.
6 (2) only if the creditor satisfies one of the following:

7 (a) The creditor was a creditor of the transferor when the qualified disposition
8 was made and the creditor commences the action within the later of the following:

9 1. Eighteen months after the qualified disposition.

10 2. Six months after the creditor discovers or reasonably should have discovered
11 the qualified disposition. For purposes of this subdivision, a creditor is considered 12 to have discovered a transfer at the time a public record is made of the transfer.

13 (b) The creditor becomes a creditor after the qualified disposition is made, and 14 the creditor commences the action no later than 18 months after the qualified 15 disposition.

16 (4) In an action against a qualified disposition under sub. (2), each creditor has 17 the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that the transferor made the 18 qualified disposition with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud the creditor. Proof 19 by one creditor that a transferor made a qualified disposition with the intent to 20 hinder, delay, or defraud that creditor is not proof that the transferor made a 21 qualified disposition with the intent to hinder, delay, or defraud any other creditor
22 and does not invalidate any other transfer of property to the legacy trust.

23 (5) Subject to s. 699.10 (4), with respect to a qualified disposition, a creditor has 24 only the rights and remedies that are provided in this section and s. 699.06.

SENATE BILL 667

1 (6) Subject to sub. (8), an advisor may not be found liable for damages a person
2 suffers in connection with a legacy trust unless the person demonstrates by clear and 3 convincing evidence that the advisor’s actions violated the laws of this state, that the 4 advisor acted knowingly and in bad faith, and that the advisor’s actions directly 5 caused the damages suffered by the person.

6 (7) Subject to sub. (8), a trustee of a legacy trust may not be found liable to a 7 person who is not a beneficiary or a transferor of the legacy trust unless the person 8 demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that the trustee’s actions violated the 9 laws of this state, that the trustee acted knowingly and in bad faith, and that the 10 trustee’s actions directly caused the damages suffered by the person.

11 (8) (a) Subject to s. 699.10 (4), no person may bring an action of any kind related 12 to a qualified disposition if the period under sub. (3) in which a creditor may bring 13 an action against the qualified disposition that is the basis of the action has expired.

14 (b) An action barred under par. (a) includes an action to enforce a judgment
15 entered by a court or other authorized adjudicative body, in law or equity, against a 16 trustee or advisor of a legacy trust or against any person involved in the counseling 17 in connection with, or the drafting, preparation, execution, administration, or 18 funding of a legacy trust. For purposes of this paragraph, “counseling in connection 19 with, or the drafting, preparation, execution, administration, or funding of a legacy 20 trust” includes any of those actions related to any limited partnership, limited 21 liability company, corporation, or similar entity if the limited partnership interests, 22 limited liability company interests, stock, or other similar ownership interests in the 23 relevant entity are subsequently the subject of a qualified disposition.

24 (9) If more than one qualified disposition is made to a legacy trust, all of the 25 following apply:

SENATE BILL 667SECTION 1

1 (a) For purposes of determining whether a creditor's claim against a qualified
2 disposition is barred under sub. (3), each qualified disposition shall be evaluated
3 individually without regard to any subsequent qualified disposition.

4 (b) For purposes of determining the order in which property is paid, applied,
5 or distributed from a legacy trust, all of the following apply:

6 1. A payment, application, or distribution of money is considered to be made
7 from or with the money most recently received or acquired by any trustee of a legacy
8 trust except to the extent that it is proven otherwise beyond a reasonable doubt.

9 2. A payment, application, or distribution of a fungible asset is considered to 10 be made from or with the fungible asset most recently received or acquired by any 11 trustee of a legacy trust except to the extent that it is proven otherwise by clear and 12 convincing evidence.

13 (c) A distribution to a beneficiary is considered to have been made from the most 14 recent transfer to the legacy trust.

15 699.06 Creditor claims against qualified dispositions. (1) If a creditor's 16 claim against a qualified disposition under s. 699.05 is successful, in whole or in part,
17 all of the following apply:

18 (a) The creditor may recover damages from trust assets only to the extent 19 necessary to satisfy a transferor's debt to the creditor and any part of the qualified 20 disposition that is not used to satisfy the debt remains subject to the legacy trust.

21 (b) Any other qualified disposition to a trustee of the legacy trust and the legacy 22 trust remain valid, including a qualified disposition of a partial, co-ownership, or 23 undivided interest in property by a transferor whose transfer was the subject of a 24 creditor claim under s. 699.05.

SENATE BILL 667

1 (c) If a court is satisfied that the trustee did not act in bad faith in accepting 2 or administering the property that was the subject of the claim under s. 699.05, all
3 of the following apply:

4 1. The trustee has a first lien against the property that was the subject of the 5 claim under s. 699.05 in an amount equal to the entire cost, including attorney fees, 6 properly incurred by the trustee in defense of the action or proceedings against the 7 qualified disposition.

8 2. Any recovery for damages under par. (a) is subject to the fees, costs, and 9 preexisting rights, claims, and interests of the trustee and of any predecessor trustee 10 that has not acted in bad faith.

11 (d) If a court is satisfied that a beneficiary of the legacy trust did not act in bad 12 faith in receiving a distribution from the legacy trust, the creditor's recovery of the 13 qualified disposition is subject to the right of the beneficiary to retain that 14 distribution if the distribution was the result of an exercise of a trust power or of 15 discretion vested in a trustee or advisor and that power or discretion was exercised 16 before the creditor commenced the action against the qualified disposition.

17 (e) 1. For purposes of par. (c), a trustee is not considered to have acted in bad 18 faith solely because the trustee accepted the property that is the subject of the 19 recoverable qualified disposition.

20 2. For purposes of par. (d), a beneficiary, including a beneficiary who is a 21 transferor, is not considered to have acted in bad faith solely because the beneficiary 22 accepted a distribution made in accordance with the terms of the legacy trust.

23 3. For purposes of pars. (c) and (d), a creditor has the burden of proving by clear 24 and convincing evidence that a trustee or a beneficiary acted in bad faith.

SENATE BILL 667SECTION 1

1 (2) A court shall award costs and reasonable attorney fees to a prevailing party
2 in a final judgment in an action that is wholly or partially brought under this section 3 or s. 699.05.

4 699.07 Trust advisors; eligibility; default fiduciary status. (1) Except 5 as provided in sub. (2), any person is eligible to serve as an advisor of a legacy trust.

6 (2) A transferor of a legacy trust may serve as an advisor only in connection
7 with investment decisions related to trust assets.

8 (3) Notwithstanding s. 701.0818 (2), an advisor is a fiduciary unless the terms
9 of a legacy trust expressly provide otherwise.

10 699.08 Rules regarding discretion. Except as otherwise provided under the 11 terms of a legacy trust, each trustee and each advisor of the legacy trust has the 12 greatest discretion permitted by law in connection with all matters of trust 13 administration, trust distributions, and any other trustee or advisor decision.

14 699.09 Discretionary interest not property of a beneficiary. No person, 15 including a beneficiary, has a property interest in property of a legacy trust to the 16 extent that the distribution of that property is subject to the discretion of a qualified 17 trustee or advisor, whether acting alone or in conjunction with another person, 18 including a person authorized to veto a distribution from the legacy trust.

19 699.10 Miscellaneous provisions. (1) If there is a conflict between a 20 provision of this chapter and s. 242.07, the provision of this chapter shall control.

21 (2) A statement in a trust instrument that the trust is governed by “the laws 22 of this state” or a statement to similar effect is considered to expressly designate the 23 laws of this state to govern the validity, construction, and administration of the trust 24 and satisfies s. 699.01 (9) (b).
