Organization and Activities of the Joint Legislative Council

The Joint Legislative Council is a body composed of 22 legislators, 11 from the Senate and 11 from the Assembly. Twelve of these members are ex officio--that is, they serve on the Council because of their positions as legislative leaders--and are the following: the Speaker of the Assembly, the President of the Senate, the Speaker Pro Tempore of the Assembly, President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Assembly and Senate Majority and Minority Leaders, the two Co-Chairs of the Joint Committee on Finance, and the ranking minority member of the Joint Committee on Finance from each house. The other 10 members are appointed as are members of standing committees; five are appointed by the Chair of the Senate Committee on Organization, and five by the Speaker of the Assembly. [s. 13.81 (1), Stats.]

The Joint Legislative Council establishes study committees during the recess periods of the Legislature. The Council determines which studies will be conducted and assigns these studies to particular committees created by the Council for these committees' review, study, and recommendations. These studies generally are of four types:

1. Intensive examination of problems that are expected to confront a succeeding Legislature.
2. Review of controversial subjects that were unresolved by the previous Legislature.
3. Major codifications and revisions of portions of the law.
4. Methods of improving the operation and effectiveness of state agencies.

There are three continuing Council committees currently required by statute [s. 13.83, Stats.]: the State-Tribal Relations Committee, the Law Revision Committee, and the Strengthening Wisconsin Families Committee.

Under s. 13.82 (1), Stats., all studies or investigations that are proposed by the Legislature to be conducted are referred to the Council. Individual legislators and others often request, by letter, that a particular study be undertaken. Also, the Council is given specific statutory authority to initiate such studies as it feels will be of value to the citizens of the state. The Council determines which of the studies will be conducted, based on its judgment of which studies should have priority within the limits of the Council appropriation and staff resources.

The end result of this study activity is the submission by the committees of reports and, in almost all cases, implementing legislation to the Joint Legislative Council. The Council reviews the legislative proposals and introduces in the Legislature those it approves by a majority of the membership of the Council (12 votes).

Operation of Council Staff

The Joint Legislative Council and the Council's study committees are staffed by a central nonpartisan legislative service agency. The Legislative Council staff serves in the unclassified service. As of June 30, 2008, the Council staff included, in addition to the Director, 16 attorneys, 3 analysts, and 8 fiscal and support staff.

The basic duties of the staff include:

1. To provide legal, scientific and policy research, and administrative-secretarial services for the Council and its committees.
2. To provide legal, scientific and policy research, and analysis services for the Legislature's substantive standing committees and joint committees.
3. To provide legal, scientific, and policy research services for individual legislators.
4. To serve as the Administrative Rules Clearinghouse for review of all proposed administrative rules.
5. To provide information to the public.

Each of these activities is discussed briefly below.

Services for the Council and its Committees. The Council staff provides services for the Joint Legislative Council and its study committees.

Services for Legislative Committees. The Council staff provides nonpartisan legal counsel and scientific and policy research for standing committees and their subcommittees, select or special committees of the Legislature, and a number of joint statutory committees. The Council staff serves as the secretariat for the Joint Committee on Legislative Organization and for the Joint Committee on Employment Relations. Council staff also provides services to ad hoc or informal legislative study committees.

Services for Individual Legislators. Upon request, the Council staff provides legal analysis and other research to individual legislators.

Administrative Rules Clearinghouse. Prior to any public hearing on proposed rules, or prior to notification of legislative standing committees if no hearing is required, the agency proposing the rules must submit the proposed rules to the Council staff for review. The Council staff is required to review the proposed rules for various technical requirements, such as legal authority for promulgation of the rules and the form and clarity of the rules. The Council staff may issue advisory recommendations concerning the proposed rules. The Council staff also works with and assists the appropriate standing committees throughout the rule-making process. For additional information, see the Clearinghouse's Annual Report to the Legislature, which is available at <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/lc>. [See s. 227.15, Stats.]

Services to the Public. The Council staff is available to answer questions from members of the general public and from research agencies and legislators of other states. Information about the Council staff, as well as publications prepared by the staff, are available at <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/lc>.

The Joint Legislative Council established the Special Committee on Applicability of Open Meetings Law to Quasi-Governmental Bodies and appointed the chairperson by a June 9, 2006 mail ballot. The committee was directed to: (a) review recent Attorney General opinions regarding the applicability of the Open Meetings Law to "quasi-governmental" bodies, such as economic development corporations, to determine whether the public policy set forth in those opinions is desirable; and (b) develop legislation to clarify the applicability of the Open Meetings Law to quasi-governmental bodies either by codifying those policies or by delineating the specific condition under which quasi-governmental bodies are subject to the Open Meetings Law.

Membership of the Special Committee, appointed by August 1 and 28, 2006 mail ballots, consisted of one Senator, three Representatives, and nine public members. A list of the committee membership can be found in the Appendix to this report.

The Special Committee held three meetings in Madison on the following dates:

October 18, 2006

The Joint Legislative Council received the final report of the Special Committee on March 14, 2007.

CHARTER SCHOOLS

[A summary of the Special Committee's meetings, materials, and membership, as well as the final report for the Special Committee, are available at <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/lc/>.]

The committee was authorized to examine funding of charter schools, including providing funding for technology in charter schools and financing of charter school facilities; accountability for charter school pupil performance; transportation of pupils to charter schools; the types of entities that may establish or contract for the establishment of charter schools; the types of entities with which a chartering entity may contract to operate a charter school; benefits provided to charter school employees; the process by which charter schools are established or a contract is renewed or terminated; benefits or protections provided to other schools that may be expanded to apply to charter schools; and other issues relating to modernizing charter school law.

Membership of the Special Committee, appointed by an August 1, 2006 mail ballot, consisted of two Senators, three Representatives, and 11 public members. A list of the committee membership can be found in the Appendix to this report.

Actions of the Joint Legislative Council

At its June 12, 2007 meeting, the Joint Legislative Council adopted a motion to give the committee until July 15, 2007 to complete its work and to dissolve the committee if its work was not completed by that date.

The fifth meeting of the committee was held on June 25, 2007 to consider WLC: 0087/1. Because a quorum was not present, the committee could take no action. Based on the availability of committee members, it was not possible to schedule a subsequent meeting of the committee before the July 15 deadline. Therefore, the committee dissolved and made no recommendation to the Joint Legislative Council.

The Joint Legislative Council received the final report of the Special Committee on December 12, 2007.

Actions of the Joint Legislative Council

The Special Committee held three meetings during which it focused on a draft creating a conditional discharge procedure under which a person could, by complying with certain court-ordered requirements, avoid a criminal conviction for most misdemeanors. Because the members of the Special Committee could not reach a consensus regarding the draft legislation, the chairperson permanently adjourned the Special Committee. No recommendation was forthcoming; therefore, the Special Committee made no recommendation to the Joint Legislative Council.

The Joint Legislative Council received the final report of the Special Committee on June 12, 2007.

GREAT LAKES WATER RESOURCES COMPACT

[A summary of the Special Committee's meetings, materials, and membership, as well as the final report for the Special Committee, are available at <http://www.legis.state.wi.us/lc/>.]

Summary of Committee Activity

The Joint Legislative Council established the Special Committee on Great Lakes Water Resources Compact and appointed the chairperson by a June 9, 2006 mail ballot. The committee was directed to develop legislation to ratify and implement the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River Basin Water Resources Compact proposed by the governors of the Great Lakes states. In developing this legislation, the Special Committee was directed to consider the need for new or modified water resource management strategies, including an integrated strategy that is based on the relationships between surface water, groundwater, and water-dependent natural resources and that addresses water quantity and quality issues in a coordinator manner.

Membership of the Special Committee, appointed by August 1 and 28, 2006 mail ballots, consisted of four Senators, four Representatives, and 11 public members. A list of the committee and subcommittees' membership can be found in the Appendix to this report.

The Special Committee held eight meetings in Madison on the following dates:

Actions of the Joint Legislative Council

At its June 12, 2007 meeting, the Joint Legislative Council adopted a motion to give the committee until September 15, 2007 to complete its work and to dissolve the committee if its work was not completed by that date.

The last four meetings of the full committee were held on July 18, August 7, August 21, and September 4, 2007. At these meetings, the committee focused on reviewing and developing preliminary bill drafts regarding ratification and implementation of the compact. In particular, the committee concentrated its discussions on several major compact implementation issues including the baseline for determining a new or increased diversion, withdrawal, or consumptive use; the threshold levels for determining which new or increased withdrawals and consumptive uses are subject to the compact's decision-making standard; the effective date or dates for the new regulations under the compact; and the definition and application of the terms "community within a straddling county" and "straddling community." Because the members of the Special Committee could not reach a consensus regarding the draft legislation, the chairperson permanently adjourned the Special Committee. Therefore, the committee dissolved and made no recommendation to the Joint Legislative Council.

The Joint Legislative Council received the final report of the Special Committee on December 12, 2007.

Actions of the Legislature

On February 21, 2008, the Senate Committee on Environment and Natural Resources introduced 2007 Senate Bill 523, relating to ratifying and implementing the compact. This bill was based, in part, on the draft legislation developed by the Special Committee. The Senate passed this bill, but the Assembly did not concur in it.

Subsequently, the Governor called the Legislature into Special Session in April to address the compact. The Legislature then passed April 2008 Special Session Senate Bill 1, and it was approved by the Governor as 2007 Wisconsin Act 227.
